Hello from the Winemaker

OMG!! 2020!!!
I can’t believe it is already February, 2020. Happy Lunar New Year, Year of the Rat, Happy Gregorian calendar New Year, Happy 2020.

As some of you know, I am very into astrology, and New Year’s Eve happens to be my favorite holiday. There is something so beautiful and satisfying about new beginnings.

This year, on New Year’s Eve, I received an engaging e-mail from Lotus Tarot, highlighting the “King of Wands” card. As I read the email, I started smiling from ear to ear because it was full of all the exact energy and sentiments that we’ve been talking about at the winery. I wanted to share some of the words from this e-mail, as it really echoes what Rock Wall is all about in 2020.

This is an abridged version:

“The King of Wands reminds you that this physical world is but a game. Play big, and have fun. Material gains are not the end result, it is in remembering that you can do anything. You, my Love, have the power. Stand tall, create the life you want and know from the deepest burning fire within your soul that you are the center of your universe. Time stands still, you get to choose! This card of fire speaks of letting the flame inside of you burn at its fullest. It beseeches you to take action, to follow your passion, to trust in your heart. You have everything you need in order to make this happen. There is no obstacle that can stop you now. Obstacles are merely opportunity to grow, to expand. Look into anything that steps in your path as such, and you will elevate to your highest self. You need only trust that you are exactly where you are supposed to be.” – Lotus Tarot

As we go into 2020, all of us at the winery are focused on more love and more fun in 2020. Give more love, feel more love. Self-care is mandatory, not frivolous. Wine is self-care. Ignite your fire. Do the thing. Do all the things!!

As a wise man used to tell me, “Never underestimate the value of a little fun.”
If no one has told you yet today, YOU are awesome.
And of course, I hope you have a very Happy Valentine’s Day.
Cheers, and a happy autumn to you all,
Love,
Shauna Rosenblum, Winemaker
Rock Wall Wine Company

www.rockwallwines.com